

Testimonial about poetry writing of Heidi Lerner:

Many brain injured people write poetry. No verses are more moving - or more motivating - than Ms. Lerner's writings. She combines her subjective experience as a survivor with her now professional perspective on survivors such as herself. This makes it heady stuff (which is not intended to be a pun). By taking both points of view, this unique writing speaks clearly and positively to all who inhabit the world of the traumatically brain injured a message that is at once both helpful and hopeful

.

J.P. Ginsberg, Ph.D.
Licensed Clinical Psychologist
Columbia Neuropsychology Service LLC
Columbia, SC