

Full Scholarship, George Washington University - Masters in Special Education - Acquired Brain Injury.

Mini-grant Competition Winner - Heidi performed research on the Role of Motivation in the Rehabilitation from Brain Injury.

Therapy was altered from something an injured child has to execute, to something he or she enjoys achieving. The child is much more fully engaged in their rehabilitation. Findings were indisputably in favor of individualized therapy for children.